My thoughts and prayers are with Jimmys family. I work at the Walmart at 111th and Memorial so I seen Jimmy daily when he was delivering his Bread. I always enjoyed hearing his stories and giving him a hard time. He recently retired. RIP my friend.

Jim left behind a legacy of love and family. I have so many memories that I could share but I think the one that resonates the loudest was something he said years ago while 4 generations of the family were there enjoying a beautiful summer day swimming, laughing, and talking and it was this. He said he was the richest man in the world because of days like that one. He said being surrounded by family was the single most important thing to him because Family was in fact everything.
