In Loving Memory of Patrick H. Lahmeyer November 28, 1952 - August 20, 2025

Patrick H. Lahmeyer sailed his boat under the rainbow bridge on Wednesday, August 20, 2025, at 4:00 a.m., successfully reaching the other shore.

Born on November 28, 1952, Pat was welcomed into the Lahmeyer family by his parents, Thomas Harold and Anna Rosa Lee Lahmeyer. From his earliest days, Pat showed a natural courage and loyalty-always stepping in to defend anyone in need. That spirit of protection carried into his adult life, where he served proudly in the U.S. Army as a tank mechanic and later as a platoon leader. Pat embodied strength, loyalty, and devotion to others, saving many from danger and certain death.

After his service, Pat returned to Tulsa to work in the family foundry, contributing to high-precision parts used by NASA and other vital industries. His hands, however, found their truest calling in fine craftsmanship. A master cabinet maker, Pat founded Innovative Creations, a kitchen remodeling business in downtown Tulsa, where his artistry touched countless homes. Later, he worked at the St. Francis Warren complex until his retirement in 2019.

Pat's life was never defined by work alone-it was an adventure filled with sailing, fishing, cooking, and mastery of the backyard grill. He organized Caribbean cruises, hosted legendary volleyball tournaments, and threw unforgettable "Joke" parties that kept friends laughing for weeks. His adventurous spirit carried him into every corner of Tulsa life-River Parks, Oktoberfest, hot air ballooning, Cain's Ballroom, and the Brady Theater.

He was recognized everywhere for his wild eyebrows, his long, multicolored ponytail, and his contagious joy for life. Pat had a way of turning simple moments into celebrations. He often reminded those around him: "Make sure you have fun today!"-a philosophy he lived long before "Life is Good" became a phrase.

Pat came and rescued me once. I was in college and my tiny remote farmhouse had been broken into while I was away for a weekend. There was no major damage or theft, but someone had moved the furniture and had obviously stayed there a while. There was a chair placed across from the front door where someone had sat, facing the window, watching, waiting for me to get home. I was terrified. I called Pat and told him someone had been in my house. He told me to get out of the house and come get him. He immediately came over, went through the entire place, up into the attic crawl space, under the house, searched closets, under the bed, everywhere. Then he secured the windows so that they couldn't be opened enough for access, fixed my faulty door latches, and got me a place to stay for a few days. I have never forgotten his kindness. Rest easy, Pat, you were definitely one of the good guys.....Nancy Lemon

Whilst I don't have any photos of Pat, I came to know him by providing lawn mower repair service. Without a doubt, the day I met Pat, my life became richer and fuller. In the very first few moments we laughed like old friends do. I and all will miss you friend Pat. It was and is one of the greatest hours of my life to have had you in my life. Until we meet again... rest well friend.
